The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I would like to bring to the attention of the members of the House a clerical error that appeared in the Orders and Notices Paper that was published under today's date.

The error in question is to be found on Page 4 of that document under the heading of "Special Debates - Opposition Day" standing in the name of the Leader of the Third Party, Mr Harris.

On the second line of that notice, the word "laughs" was printed inadvertently whereas the correct word should have been "layoffs". This will be corrected in the next printing for Monday, November 26, 1990.

On behalf of the Journals Branch, I apologize to the Leader of the Third Party and regret any embarrassment caused by this incident.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Last Thursday (November 22), the Honourable Member for Carleton, Mr Sterling, raised a point of order about the appropriateness of a statement made by the Honourable Member for Perth, Mrs Haslam, during Members' Statements. I undertook at that time, to review Hansard and report to the House. I have had an opportunity to do so and I must report that I could find nothing that went against our practices in the statement made by the Honourable Member for Perth as she is not a Parliamentary Assistant.

I would like to take this opportunity, however, to remind honourable members that Members' Statements time is not to be used for parliamentary assistants to make statements that ought to be made during that period reserved for statements by the ministry, nor should it be an opportunity to make personal attacks on other members.

Also on Thursday last, during Question Period, the Honourable Member for Nipissing, Mr Harris, the Leader of the Third Party, asked a question of the Minister of the Environment, which dealt with the use of disposable containers.

In his supplementary to the Minister, the subject matter expanded to the use of the containers in the Legislative Assembly cafeteria and amongst other things, the windows in the Legislative Building.

During the Minister's reply I interrupted the Minister because I felt that the supplementary question dealt with a matter which came under the jurisdiction of the Office of the Assembly, and that therefore, it should be dealt with by the Board of Internal Economy.

I have looked into this and wish to report to the House that I will be sending each member a report on this matter in the very near future.

The Order of the Day for resuming the Adjourned Debate on the Amendment to the Motion for an Address in Reply to the Speech of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor at the Opening of the Session having been read,

The debate was resumed, and after some time,

Mr Harris moved,

That the amendment to the motion for an Address in Reply to the Speech of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor at the Opening of the Session be amended by adding the following thereto:-

4. for its failure to commit to a policy of restraint designed to control the growth and cost of government and to reduce the tax burden on its citizens;
5. for its failure to recognize and act on the necessity of building a new financial partnership with Ontario's municipalities;
6. for its failure to articulate any measures to respond to the ageing of Ontario's population;
7. for its failure to advance a coherent regional development policy;
8. for its failure to recognize the crisis facing Ontario's agricultural community and its lack of commitment to preserve farmland and provide interest rate relief for farmers.

And, after some time, it was,

On motion by Mr Curling,

Ordered, That the debate be adjourned.

Miss Martel moved, That the House do now adjourn.

The question, having been put on the motion, was declared carried.

langue française d'Ottawa-Carleton. L'hon. M. Boyd.

The following Bill was introduced, read the first time and referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills:-

Bill Pr52, An Act respecting the City of York. Mr T. Rizzo.

Mrs Sullivan moved,

That in the opinion of this House, since the Minister of the Environment has acknowledged that even under the most optimistic forecasts of reduction, re-use and recycling there will still remain more than three million tonnes of municipal waste within the Greater Toronto Area requiring disposal annually;

Has effectively absolved communities within the Greater Toronto Area of their responsibility to designate interim sites within their own boundaries to deal with the impending garbage crisis;

Has indicated she is prepared to exercise emergency powers to extend land-filling at Keele Valley and Britannia Road in excess of currently allowable volumes, thereby ignoring all safeguards under the Environmental Assessment Act, and order without a hearing of any kind the disposal of garbage into the proposed site 6B in Brampton and P1 Whitevale site;

Has refused to provide this legislature and the public with the details of her waste reduction strategy, and

Since the present government has clearly abdicated its responsibility to protect the public and the environment, and has failed to provide a sound environmental plan to deal with the impending garbage crisis;

This House therefore calls upon the Minister of the Environment to provide that:

- i) A comprehensive waste reduction strategy be presented to the legislature immediately for public debate and implementation;
- ii) No existing land-fill sites will have their capacity expanded without full and public hearings under the Environmental Assessment Act;
- iii) No region can transport its waste to another municipality in the province without a resolution of the recipient municipality indicating that it is a "willing host" for such waste;
- iv) No regional land-fill site that is coming on stream in a municipality having completed the Environmental Assessment process shall be required to accept municipal solid waste from outside the municipality by the Minister of the Environment's emergency powers.
- v) No new waste disposal sites will be designated within the province without the benefit of full and public hearings under the Environmental Assessment Act.

And a debate arising, after some time, the motion having been put, was lost on the following division:-

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:

Honourable Members will remember that there were a couple of points of order and a question of privilege arising out of yesterday's Question Period. I undertook to review Hansard on these matters and I would now like to report to the House.

The answers provided by the Honourable Jenny Carter, Minister of Energy, to a question and supplementary asked by the Honourable Member for York East, Mr Gary Malkowski, were well within the average for time and the subject matter did not constitute the announcement of new government policy.

I have also reviewed Hansard in relation to the matter raised by the Honourable Member for York Centre, Mr Gregory Sorbara, and I find that this does not constitute a matter relating to privilege. There is a disagreement and I am sure the Member stated that correctly yesterday.

Mr Jackson from the Standing Committee on Estimates presented the Committee's report as follows which was deemed to be received and concurred in:-

Pursuant to Standing Order 59 the Supplementary Estimates of the Office of the Assembly $9,107,800; Office of the Chief Election Officer $116,200; Ombudsman Ontario $150,000 are reported back to the House as they were not supplementary to the Estimates previously selected by the Committee for consideration.

Mrs Caplan from the Standing Committee on Social Development presented the Committee's Report which was read as follows and adopted:

Your Committee begs to report the following Bill as amended:-

Bill 12, An Act to amend the Education Act. Ordered for Third Reading.

Your Committee begs to report the following Bill without amendment:-

Bill 13, An Act to amend the Ottawa-Carleton French-Language School Board Act, 1988/Projet de loi 13, Loi portant modification de la Loi de 1988 sur le Conseil scolaire de langue française d'Ottawa-Carleton. Ordered for Third Reading.

The following Bills were introduced and read the first time:-

Bill 36, An Act to amend certain Acts respecting Assessment. Hon. S. Wark-Martyn.

Bill 37, An Act to provide for the Licensing of Motor Boat Operators. Mr A. McLean.

Bill 38, An Act to amend the Planning Act. Mr R. Callahan.

The following Bills were introduced, read the first time and referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills:-

Bill Pr15, An Act respecting the City of Etobicoke. Mr J. Henderson.

Bill Pr16, An Act respecting the City of North York. Mr C. Harnick.

Bill Pr20, An Act respecting the City of Scarborough. Mr S. Owens.

Bill Pr23, An Act respecting the Borough of East York. Ms M. Ward (Don Mills).

Bill Pr51, An Act respecting the City of York. Mr T. Rizzo.

The following Bills were read the third time and were passed:-

Bill 15, An Act respecting Land on Manitoulin Island, Barrie Island and Cockburn Island.

Bill 16, An Act to amend the Municipal Elections Act and certain other Acts related to Municipal Elections.

Mr Laughren moved,

That the Treasurer of Ontario be authorized to pay the salaries of the civil servants and other necessary payments pending the voting of supply for the period commencing January 1, 1991, and ending April 30, 1991, such payments to be charged to the proper appropriation following the voting of supply.

And a debate arising, after some time, it was,

On motion by Mr Mahoney,

Ordered, That the debate be adjourned.

Ms Gigantes moved, That the House do now adjourn.

THE AFTERNOON SITTING
1:30 P.M.

SÉANCE DE L'APRÈS-MIDI
13 H 30

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:

During yesterday's Question Period, the Honourable Member for Mississauga North, Mr Steven Offer, raised a point of order regarding the use of Question Period by Ministers to make statements under the guise of answers to questions from members of their own caucus. Following Question Period the Honourable Member for Parry Sound, Mr Ernie Eves, raised a similar point of order which was contributed to by a number of Honourable Members. I want to thank everyone for their contributions. I have reviewed Hansard and given this matter some thought which I am now ready to share with you.

First of all, there can be no doubt that our Standing Orders and practice permit a certain number of questions to be asked of Ministers during Question Period each day which originate from members of the Government caucus. A restriction to this is that a Parliamentary Secretary cannot ask a question of the Minister under whom he serves, regarding the subject matter field pertaining to that Ministry.

The Chair takes very seriously the point made by the Honourable Member for Mississauga North, Mr Offer, and the Honourable Member for Parry Sound, Mr Eves, that answers to questions should not be used to present to the House, changes in Government policy. Members will know that our Standing Orders provide a specific time period each day during Routine Proceedings for that type of announcement. The procedure for Statements by the Ministry also provides for replies on the part of members of the Opposition Parties. I therefore agree with the Honourable Members who made these points yesterday, that Question Period definitely should not be used for presenting changes in Government policy.

I must caution Honourable Members however, that although the Chair tries to be vigilant in these matters, sometimes the skill displayed by the questioner and the Minister providing the answer is such that it is difficult for the Speaker to identify what might or might not constitute a departure from established Government policy.

I have looked at the questions and answers of yesterday's Question Period and I will take this occasion to tell the Honourable Minister of Labour, Mr Bob MacKenzie, that his answer yesterday to the question asked by the Honourable Member for Dovercourt, Mr Tony Silipo, was indeed borderline and could be interpreted to be an announcement of new Government policy.

In conclusion therefore, members were perfectly right to raise this. It is indeed a point of order and Ministers should be aware that new Government policy should be announced during that time provided for, under our Standing Orders and not during Question Period.

On motion by Miss Martel,

Ordered, That, notwithstanding any Standing Order, the Chair of the Select Committee on Energy in the 2nd Session of the 34th Parliament, the member for Halton Centre, be permitted to present a background report to the Select Committee on Energy by the Royal Society of Canada on Carbon Dioxide Emission Reduction Potential in the Industrial Sector.

Pursuant to Standing Order 35(b), the following Petition was presented:-

Petition relating to Heritage buildings in London (Sessional Paper No. P-3) (Tabled December 20, 1990) Mr Winner.

Mrs Sullivan, from the Select Committee on Energy in the 2nd Session of the 34th Parliament, presented a background report to the Select Committee on Energy by the Royal Society of Canada on Carbon Dioxide Emission Reduction Potential in the Industrial Sector. (Sessional Paper No. 54).

The Speaker ruled as follows:

On December 20 last, the Honourable Member for Markham, Mr. Cousens, rose on a point of privilege, complaining of statements made by Ministers outside the House and not during the period normally reserved for Statements by the Ministry under our Standing Order 31.

I want to thank the Honourable Member for his detailed presentation which reflected a good deal of research in order to demonstrate the rightness of his case. However, I must find, as many Speakers before me in this House and other Houses have found, that it is not a question of privilege nor is it a point of order for a Minister to choose to make a statement outside the House. In effect, our Standing Order 31(a) states "a Minister of the Crown may make a short factual statement relating to Government policy". The member will realize that the important word here is "may".

Finally, I would like to quote Speaker Lamoureux on October 30, 1969 when he addressed the House of Commons on this very matter:

"The question has often been raised whether parliamentary privilege imposes on ministers an obligation to deliver communications to the public through the House of Commons or to make these announcements or statements in the House rather than outside the Chamber. The question has been asked whether Honourable Members are entitled, as part of their parliamentary privilege, to receive such information ahead of the general public. I can find no precedent to justify this suggestion. ... There may be, in such circumstances, a question of propriety or a question of courtesy. There may be a grievance. But in my view there cannot be a question of privilege."

Pursuant to Standing Order 35(b), the following Petition was presented:-

Petition relating to Anti-Abortion (Sessional Paper No. P-5) (Tabled March 19, 1991)
 Mr M. Cooper.

Mr Wiseman from the Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs presented the Committee's Report on Pre-Budget Consultation, 1991 (No. 98) (Tabled March 19, 1991).

The Speaker ruled as follows:-

Yesterday, the Honourable Member for Parry Sound, Mr Eves, raised a point of order regarding the appropriateness of a statement made by the Honourable Minister of Culture and Communications, Mr Marchese, according to our Standing Order 31(a). I undertook to look into this matter and report back.

Our Standing Order 31(a) reads as follows:

"A Minister of the Crown may make a short factual statement relating to government policy, ministry action or other similar matters of which the House should be informed."

Members will realize that the terms of this Standing Order tend to be on the non-restrictive side and therefore it is difficult for the Speaker to interpret strictly what can or cannot fall under the confines of the Standing Order.

As far as the statement made yesterday is concerned, I find that it was in order.

On motion by Miss Martel,

Ordered, That Standing Order 85 respecting notice of committee hearings be suspended for the consideration of Bills Pr29, Pr38 and Pr52 by the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills on Wednesday, 27 March, 1991.

Consideration of the Interim Report of the Select Committee on Ontario in Confederation / Rapport provisoire du Comité spécial sur le rôle de l'Ontario au sein de la Confédération was resumed.

At 6:00 p.m., the question "That this House do now adjourn" was deemed to have been proposed pursuant to Standing Order 33(b).

After one matter was considered, the question was deemed to have been adopted.

PRAYERS

PRIÈRES
13 H 30

The Speaker ruled as follows:-

On Tuesday, April 2, 1991, the member for Dufferin-Peel (Mr Tilson) rose on a question of privilege. He informed the House that he had received a letter from a solicitor for a provincial civil servant concerning a March 1, 1991 radio broadcast of remarks the member made in a recorded interview with a reporter, and questioned whether the letter amounted to a breach of privilege or a contempt of the House for "obstructing, threatening or attempting to force or intimidate a member of the Assembly" as proscribed by paragraph 2 of subsection 45(1) of the Legislative Assembly Act.

I have carefully reviewed the member's submission, a transcript of the broadcast in question and the relevant parliamentary authorities and precedents, and I am now in a position to report to the House.

Section 37 of the Legislative Assembly Act, which enacts the common law rule of freedom of speech, provides as follows:-

A member of the Assembly is not liable to any civil action or prosecution, arrest, imprisonment or damages, by reason of any matter or thing brought by him by petition, bill, resolution, motion or otherwise, or said by him before the Assembly or a committee thereof.

This most fundamental privilege of members allows members to express their views in proceedings in Parliament without fear of an action for slander or libel. Although what constitutes a proceeding in Parliament may encompass circumstances beyond the formal transaction of business in the Assembly or its committees, I am of the opinion that I would be extending the definition of privilege too far if the remarks of the member made in an interview outside the Chamber some months after questions were posed and answers made in the House and possibly in changed or different circumstances were included.

I have also considered whether the sending of the solicitor's letter arising out of the member's remarks on the radio broadcast constituted an improper means of interfering with or influencing the member in his parliamentary conduct. The solicitor's letter cited by the member referred to legal proceedings contemplated against the member as a result of further repetition by the member of statements made in the radio broadcast or similar allegations made by the member outside the legislature. This letter does not relate to a proceeding in Parliament and does not appear to be calculated to affect the member's course of action in the Assembly or its committees. As such, I am of the opinion that it does not constitute an obstruction, attempted intimidation or intimidation of the member in his parliamentary conduct.

Therefore, in the circumstances in this matter, I find that a prima facie case of privilege has not been established.

I thank the member for Dufferin-Peel for providing me with advance notice of his concerns and trust that my ruling offers some guidance to all members.

The House expressed its condolence on the death of Richard Taylor, member for the Electoral District of Timiskaming from September 25, 1963 to September 5, 1967.

Pursuant to Standing Order 35(b), the following Petition was presented:-

Petition relating to Compensation for laid off workers (Sessional Paper No. P-12) (Tabled April 9, 1991) Mr C. Jackson.

Mr Cordiano from the Standing Committee on Social Development presented the Committee's Report which was read as follows and adopted:-

Your Committee begs to report the following Bill without amendment:-

Bill 22, An Act to provide for Certain Rights for Deaf Persons. Ordered for Third Reading.

The following Bill was introduced and read the first time:-

Bill 69, An Act respecting General Elections. Mr A. McLean.

Projet de loi 69, Loi concernant les élections générales. M. A. McLean.

The House resolved itself into a Committee to consider a certain Bill, and after some time, the Speaker resumed the Chair, and the Chairman, as directed by the Committee, reported progress on the following Bill:-

Bill 4, An Act to amend the Residential Rent Regulation Act, 1986.

Ordered, That the report be now received and adopted.

The House then adjourned

THE AFTERNOON SITTING
1:30 P.M.

SÉANCE DE L'APRÈS-MIDI
13 H 30

The Speaker ruled as follows:-

Yesterday, the Honourable Leader of the Opposition, Mr Nixon and the House Leader for the Third Party, Mr Eves, both presented a point of order with respect to the Government Notice of Motion, No. 16, which appears on the Order Paper under the name of the Government House Leader, Miss Martel.

I would like to thank them, as well as all the others who contributed to these points, for their thoughtful and well presented arguments. I have had time to consider them and I will now give my ruling on both points.

The point of order raised by the Honourable Leader of the Opposition is an important one. He and others have argued that because of our notice provisions the House has, in a certain way, been taken by surprise by the Government House Leader's Notice of Motion.

The Rule of Notice is one that is found in various applications in most Parliaments and its purpose is clearly to make sure that members of the House should not be surprised by a measure being proposed to them and for which they would not have had time to prepare to debate adequately.

Until 1970 in the Ontario Legislature, the rule that applied to Notice was the following:

"Two days' notice shall be given of a motion for leave to present a bill, resolution or address; for the appointment of any Committee; or for the putting of a question; but this rule shall not apply to bills after their introduction, or to Private Bills, or to the times of the meeting or adjournment of the House; such notices to be laid on the Table before five o'clock p.m., and to be printed in the Votes and Proceedings of that day."

Members will have noticed that this rule specified that two days' notice had to be given for substantive motions.

In 1970, this House decided to change that rule and it is the one that guides us presently and reads as follows:

"All notices required by the Standing Orders of the House or otherwise shall be laid on the Table or filed with the Clerk of the House before 5.00 p.m. and printed on the Orders and Notices paper for the following day."

What happened in 1970 was that the House decided to remove one of the days that applied to Notice. It is also important to point out, in this matter, that our Standing Orders proscribes only one rule with regard to Notice and does not distinguish between various types of Substantive Motions.

In the House of Commons in Ottawa, they have kept the two days required notice for Substantive Motions but in giving themselves a specific Standing Order related to allocation of time, they have seen the necessity of only one day's notice being required.

In this case the Chair has no alternative but to find that according to our Standing Orders, the Notice of Motion on the Order Paper is in order. Under Standing Order 51, it requires only one day's notice, that is to say, it must be filed before 5 o'clock the previous day and on the first day that it appears in the Orders and Notices, it can be moved. If there was to be a change to this, it would have to come about in the normal way that changes are made to the Standing Orders, that is by a motion brought before the House in order to amend the Standing Orders.

The second point of order that was raised by the honourable member for Parry Sound is also a very serious point, especially in a House that does not have a codified time allocation procedure.

While considering all of the arguments raised and comparing them with the precedents created by this House since 1982, I have found that no really new arguments were raised yesterday that had not been previously dealt with by my predecessors in this Chair.

A time allocation motion is a valid procedure. It attaches itself to a specified subject matter before the House and stipulates how it shall be dealt with. It is in the form of a motion which is fully debatable under our rules and once it is passed, constitutes an Order of this House stating how a certain piece of legislation is to be further studied. Notice of Motion No. 16, presently before the House, is in order and conforms in every way with the practices and precedents of this House.

Pursuant to Standing Order 35(b), the following Petitions were presented:-

Petition relating to 403-Lynden Road Extension and Interchange (Sessional Paper No. P-13) (Tabled April 11, 1991) Mr D. Abel.

Petition relating to Animals in product testing (Sessional Paper No. P-14) (Tabled April 11, 1991) Mr G. Malkowski.

The following Bills were introduced and read the first time:-

Bill 70, An Act to amend the Employment Standards Act to provide for an Employee Wage Protection Program and to make certain other amendments. Hon. B. Mackenzie.

Projet de loi 70, Loi portant modification de la Loi sur les normes d'emploi par création d'un Programme de protection des salaires des employés et par adoption de certaines autres modifications. L'hon. B. Mackenzie.

Bill 71, An Act to amend the Representation Act, 1986. Mr D. Tilson.

Projet de loi 71, Loi portant modification de la Loi de 1986 sur la représentation électorale. M. D. Tilson.

The following Bills were introduced, read the first time and referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills:-

Bill Pr3, An Act to revive Lauramar Holdings Limited. Mr J. Henderson.

Bill Pr24, An Act respecting the Town of Oakville. Mr G. Carr.

Bill Pr64, An Act respecting the City of Toronto. Mr T. Silipo.

Mr Elston moved,

That, in the opinion of this House, since the New Democratic Party has taken power, Ontario employment has fallen by 282,000 actual jobs which is at the rate of 1600 for every day. Ontario has fallen from its traditional position as the province with the lowest unemployment to 4th behind Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba, Ontario has the worst job creation record of any province in Canada, based on monthly employment figures, all this government has offered for its seven months in power is a $34 million anti-recession fund for capital projects which amounts to about $4.8 million per month on job creation projects whereas the province takes in over $120 million in revenue, every day, and since this Premier and Treasurer, have turned from being defenders of the people, to defenders of the status quo and have failed to provide the leadership and active government necessary for the Province of Ontario in a period of severe economic recession, therefore, this House calls upon the Premier and the Treasurer to assume their leadership responsibilities in a government which has promised much, and delivered little, and undertake a comprehensive job creation program addressing all aspects of economic life in the province.

And a debate arising, after some time, the motion, having been put, was lost on the following division:-

THE AFTERNOON SITTING
1:30 P.M.

SÉANCE DE L'APRÈS-MIDI
13 H 30

The Speaker ruled as follows:-

Yesterday, the member for Simcoe West (Mr Wilson) rose on a question of privilege with respect to the changes in the oath of allegiance required to be sworn by members of police forces in the province.

I have had an opportunity to review the member's submission and the relevant parliamentary authorities. It may be useful to stress the very nature of parliamentary privilege. Standing Order 21(a) defines privilege as "the rights enjoyed by the House collectively and by the members of the House individually conferred by the Legislative Assembly Act and other statutes, or by practice, precedent, usage and custom". Australia House of Representatives Practice notes that "[p]arliamentary privilege relates to the special rights and immunities which belong to the Parliament, its Members and others, which are considered essential for the operation of the Parliament. These rights and immunities allow the Parliament to meet and carry out its proper constitutional role, for members to discharge their responsibilities to their constituents and for others properly involved in the parliamentary process to carry out their duties and responsibilities without obstruction or fear of prosecution."

These special rights and immunities of the House and its members include the right of free speech in Parliament, immunity from arrest or detention for civil causes during defined periods, immunity of members from the obligation to serve on juries, immunity of witnesses from being questioned or impeached for evidence given before the House or its committees, the right of the House to establish its own rules and enforce them, the power to expel members, and the power to order the arrest and imprisonment of persons guilty of contempt or breach of privilege. It is only in very restricted circumstances that there can come to the House a legitimate case of privilege on the basis of the real, accepted and traditional definition of parliamentary privilege.

It is my opinion that the circumstances raised by the member for Simcoe West do not fall within the definition of privilege I have cited. There is no indication that the House and its members have been impeded in the performance of their duties as a result of the changes in the oath of allegiance required to be sworn by members of Ontario's police forces. Accordingly, I must rule that a prima facie case of privilege has not been established which would permit the matter to take precedence over the other business of the House.

The Speaker then addressed the House as follows:-

Before I call for Oral Questions, I hope the House will bear with me a few minutes while I consider some of the concerns that have been raised with me and others about the conduct of Question Period.

In recent weeks I have been keeping track of the time used by questioners and those providing responses during this very important part of our proceedings and the figures make it clear that both the questions and the responses are becoming longer and therefore fewer members get to ask a question.

Our Standing Orders set out very rigidly how our Question Period is to be run and very little discretion, if any, is left to the Speaker in that sense. Furthermore, our Question Period is a full sixty minutes long which should provide the necessary time for members to ask their questions.

The point I want to make is that the Chair will undertake to use persuasion upon members who are taking too long to ask or to answer a question but I would also ask that the members themselves do their part to help the Chair by making their questions and supplementaries as short and to the point as possible and that the Ministers do the same in providing their responses.

With the time provided and with cooperation, there should be no problem in dealing with 12 to 13 or more questions every day. Actually, that was the average number of questions until recently. Hopefully we can go beyond that number.

If the House Leaders or anyone else wanted to meet with me over this, it would be my pleasure to do so. This is your Question Period and together, I am certain we can make it very useful and productive.

The following Bill was introduced and read the first time:-

Bill 74, An Act respecting the Provision of Advocacy Services to Vulnerable Persons.
Hon. E. Ziemba.

Projet de loi 74, Loi concernant la prestation de services d'intervenants en faveur des personnes vulnérables. L'hon. E. Ziemba.

The following Bill was introduced, read the first time and referred to the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills:-

PRIÈRES

The Speaker ruled as follows:-

At the close of last Thursday's Question Period, the member for Burlington South (Mr Jackson) rose on a point of order concerning an exchange between 2 members in that day's Question Period.

The member asked me to review Hansard, and I have since had an opportunity to review and reflect on the appropriate passages from Hansard. I am now in a position to report to the House.

Members will know that the Minister of Education (Mrs Boyd) indicated at page 1153 of Hansard that she was distressed that she was being "misrepresented in terms of my position and our government's position with respect to the school accommodation issue." These remarks were made in response to a question from the member for Essex South (Mr Mancini), but they did not specifically allude to him or to any other member. Therefore, I do not find that the remarks of the minister transgress our Standing Orders.

I would be remiss if I did not indicate to all honourable members, and indeed remind them, that they should conduct themselves with dignity, decorum and a respect for not only the letter of our Standing Orders, but also their spirit.

The following Bill was introduced and read the first time:-

Bill 95, An Act to require The Minister of the Environment to discharge her responsibilities under Section 15 (1) of the Ontario Water Resources Act to determine the Zebra Mussel content of Cana Lake, Canal Bay, Canal Lake, Canard Lake, Canard River, Canary Lake, Cancer Lake, Candide Creek, Candide Lake, Candler Lake, Candybar Creek, Candybar Lake, Candy Creek, Cane Lake, Canisbay Creek, Canisbay Lake, Canis Lake, Canister Creek, Canister Lake, Can Lake, Canna Creek, Canna Lake, Cannard's Bay, CAnniff Creek, Canniff Lake, Canning Lake, Cannings Falls, Cannon Creek, Cannon Lake, Canoe Bay, Canoe Bay Channel, Canoe Channel, Canoe Creek, Canoe Lake, Canoeshed Lake, Canon Creek, CAnon Lake, Canonto Lake, Can Opener Lake, Canterbury Lake, CAnthook Lake, Cantin Lakke, Cantley Creek, Cantley Lake, Canton Lake, Cantrill Lake, Canty Lake, Canvasback Lake, Canyon Creek, CANYon Falls, Canyon Lake, Canyon River, Cap Creek, Capce Lake, Cape Harbour, Cape Hurd Channel, Capella Lake, Capin Lake, Cap Lake, Capper Lake, Capre Lake, Capreol Lake, Capricornus Lake, Capsell Lake, Captain Lake, Captains Lake, Captain Tom Lake, Capton Lake, Caput Lake, Carafel Creek, Carafel Lake, Caragana Lake, Caramat Creek, Caramat Lake, Carcajou Bay, Carcajou Creek, Carcajou Lake, Carcass Lake, Card Bay, Carder Lake, Cardiff Creek, Cardiff Lake, Cardinal Creek, Cardinalis Lake, Cardinal Lake, Card Lake, Cards Lake, Cardwell Lake, Carew Lake, Carey Creek, Carey Lake, Carfrae Lake, Cargill Lake, Cargill Mill Pond, Carhess Creek, Cariad Lake, Carib Creek, Carib Lake, Cariboo Creek, Cariboo Lake, Caribou Bay, Caribou Creek, Caribou Lake, Caribou Rapids, Caribou River, Caribou Throat Lake, Caribus Lake, Carillon Rapids, Carkner Lake, Car Lake, Carl Bay, Carlbom Lake, Carl Creek,

On Monday, May 6, 1991, during the period "Members' Statements", the member for Carleton (Mr Sterling) moved a motion "That this House pass directly to oral questions immediately following the completion of members' statements today". At the time, I indicated that unanimous consent was required to permit the member to move such a motion. I asked the House if there was unanimous consent to permit the member for Carleton to move his motion. Unanimous consent was denied and as a consequence the motion was not put.

Subsequently, the member for Carleton rose on a point of order to ask that I give further consideration to the ability of members to place before the House the type of motion which the member had proposed to move.

The motion which the member for Carleton proposed to move is, I believe, without precedent in the Parliament of Ontario and that is why I agreed to thoroughly review the matter and report back to the House.

I have had reference to the 3 criteria established by Speaker Edighoffer in his ruling of Tuesday, April 17, 1990 to determine if this motion is a legitimate motion and, if so, under what circumstances it may be moved. The 3 criteria established by Speaker Edighoffer are: (1) whether there is an applicable Standing Order in the case; (2) whether this is a legitimate procedural motion in parliamentary tradition; and (3) if it is a legitimate procedural motion, whether it can be applied to our procedures at the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

The Standing Orders adopted by the House in 1989 do not specifically provide for the motion which the member for Carleton proposed to move on Monday. My research on the matter has not turned up any example of such a motion being used in our legislature. Having said that, I have had reference to the usage and precedents and parliamentary tradition in other legislatures to assist in determining if this motion may be a legitimate motion and, if so, under what circumstances it may be moved.

A similar motion, one for the House to pass from tabling of documents to motions, has been moved and, in the particular circumstances, found to be in order in the House of Commons of Canada.

I therefore find that a motion providing that the House pass directly from one specific item of the routine proceedings to another item of the routine proceedings to be a legitimate motion which is capable of being applied subject to the restrictions attached to the moving of dilatory motions in the Parliament of Ontario.

Such a motion is, as the member for Carleton has stated, dilatory in nature; that is, the effect of the motion, if carried, would be to put off further consideration of the business at hand by superseding all intervening routine proceedings and it could only be moved after the Oral Question Period.

The routine proceedings have developed as an essential part of the business of the House and if they are not protected the interests of the House and the public it serves are likely to suffer severely. The moving of dilatory motions during routine proceedings is a very recent practice in the Parliament of Ontario and a relatively recent practice in other jurisdictions. It is a practice which can result in delay in the presentation of petitions, reports by committees to the House and the introduction of bills.

Members on both sides of the House have spoken to the importance of protecting the fundamental privileges members have under routine proceedings. To ensure that these fundamental privileges are preserved, I think it essential that I clearly state the circumstances under which such a motion may be moved.

In his April, 1990 ruling, Speaker Edighoffer enunciated the following characteristics which are to apply to a dilatory motion moved during the routine proceedings:

- 1) the motion may be moved by any member on either side of the House who is legitimately in possession of the floor;
- 2) the motion may be moved only following the Oral Question Period and before reaching the period for Orders of the Day, unless the House has unanimously agreed to permit the motion to be moved either before or during the Oral Question Period;
- 3) the motion may be moved without notice;
- 4) the motion is not subject to amendment or debate and the Speaker is required to put the question to the House immediately it is moved by a member;
- 5) if a recorded division is requested, the division bell is limited to 30 minutes; and
- 6) a division requested on any such motion shall not be deferred.

To this I would add that it would be irregular for such a motion to have any conditions attached. The motion should be pure and simple, like the motion for the immediate adjournment of the House or for the adjournment of the debate or that the House do pass to the Orders of the Day.

Motions such as the ones just cited and the motion proposed by the member for Carleton may not be moved until following the Oral Question Period. I believe the reason for this is quite clear; it is to protect the very fundamental privilege of members to have a period where the government must submit on a daily basis its conduct of the affairs of the province to the scrutiny of the members, particularly those members in the Opposition. Without such a provision, it would be open to a member to move and for the majority of the members in the House to agree to a motion the effect of which would be to preclude or supersede the Oral Question Period. Such a situation would clearly not be in the best interests of the House, its members or the electorate.

I have had to make this decision in the absence of any clear direction in our Standing Orders. I want to say to all members that it is not my preference that I or other Speakers be repeatedly faced with situations where the Speaker must look to usage and precedents and parliamentary tradition in other jurisdictions in the absence of any clear or applicable rule in our Parliament. Clearly, it is in the best interests of all members that the House review such situations and, where possible, express itself so that the admissibility of a particular matter is clearly dealt with.

Miss Martel moved that the House do now proceed to the Orders of the Day, which motion was carried on the following division:-

THE AFTERNOON SITTING
1:30 P.M.

SÉANCE DE L'APRÈS-MIDI
13 H 30

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Monday, April 29, the member for Etobicoke West (Mr Stockwell) introduced a bill entitled, "An Act respecting Government Expenditures".

It has been brought to my attention that Section 1 of this bill specifically directs the allocation of public funds. I must therefore, rule that the bill is in contravention of Section 54 of our Standing Orders and can only be proposed by a Minister of the Crown, supported by a message from His Honour the Lieutenant Governor. The bill is therefore out of order and must be omitted from the Order Paper.

I would also like to advise members that on Wednesday, May 1, the Honourable Leader of the Third Party (Mr Harris), introduced the following bills:

"An Act to amend the Development Charges Act for the Airy & Sabine District School Area Board.

An Act to amend the Development Charges Act for the Asquith-Garvey District School Area Board.

An Act to amend the Development Charges Act for the Atikokan Board of Education.

An Act to amend the Development Charges Act for the Atikokan Roman Catholic Separate School Board".

I must advise all honourable members that Section 1 of these bills appears to be incomplete and so they contravene Section 37(d) of our Standing Orders in that they are in improper form. I must therefore, rule that these bills are also out of order and must be omitted from the Order Paper.

Mrs Coppen moved,

That, in the opinion of this House, recognizing that the time has come for a fundamental assessment of provincial policies and practices concerning intervention services and sign language interpreting services, intervenor training and sign language interpreter training and the availability of intervenors and sign language interpreters in educational settings and in the community generally, the Ministry of Colleges and Universities should immediately undertake a thorough review of those policies and practices, with the scope of the review to include,

The House expressed its sorrow on the assassination of the former Prime Minister of India, Rajiv Gandhi.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Monday May 13, 1991, the Government House Leader (Miss Martel) rose in her place after "Statements by the Ministry and Responses" and asked the Speaker to take measures that (and I am quoting her remarks from page 1315 of the Hansard) "would bring the practice of the Ontario House more closely in line with practices of other Houses of Parliament."

Specifically, the Government House Leader requested that the Speaker do 3 things. I think it is important to quote the Government House Leader's request, as follows:

First, we respectfully request your ruling that the mover of an unsuccessful dilatory motion to adjourn the debate or adjourn the House loses the floor for the remainder of the debate on the matter under discussion, as is the case in both the Canadian and British House of Commons.

Second, we respectfully request your ruling that you as Chair have an inherent discretionary authority to refuse to put the question on a dilatory motion where in your opinion such motion is an abuse of the procedures of the House.

Alternatively, should you find for any reason that the specific rulings we have requested are not appropriate, we would ask that you use your judgement in formulating a response to the present impasse in the Legislature that is duly respectful of both the rights of the majority to govern and the rights of the minority to oppose.

That is what the Government House Leader said. Thirteen other members from all sides of the House spoke to these requests. In view of the importance of the issues that were raised, I reserved my ruling. I also indicated that I would be willing to accept written submissions over the next 2 days. A number of members availed themselves of this opportunity.

I want to thank all members for their submissions. They helped me in my deliberations over the past 2 weeks.

I want to preface my substantive response to the point of order raised by the Government House Leader by making a few general remarks about the nature and sources of parliamentary practice and procedure in this Assembly. I do so because I have observed some confusion among members as to what qualifies as a point of order, and as to how a point of order should be raised in the House.

The point of order that is currently before me provides an example of this confusion. Various members contended that it was not a point of order at all. However, citation 317 at page 96 of the 6th edition of Beauchesne's Parliamentary Rules & Forms suggests that the Government House Leader did have a point of order. This is what Beauchesne says:

Points of order are questions raised with the view of calling attention to any departure from the Standing Orders or the customary modes of proceeding in debate or in the conduct of legislative business and may be raised at virtually any time by any Member, whether that Member has previously spoken or not.

A question of order concerns the interpretation to be put upon the rules of procedure and is a matter for the Speaker or, in a committee, for the Chairman to determine.

I believe that the source of the confusion about the nature of points of order lies in the mistaken premise that concerns such as those raised by the Government House Leader do not constitute a point of order because there is no specific, relevant provision in the Standing Orders.

However, the rules are only one component of the fullness of parliamentary practice and procedure in our Assembly. This is evident from Standing Order 1(b), which provides as follows:

In all contingencies not provided for in the Standing Orders the question shall be decided by the Speaker or Chair, and in making the ruling the Speaker or Chair shall base the decision on the usages and precedents of the Legislature and Parliamentary tradition.

I say to members, then, that there are 3 sources of parliamentary practice and procedure that are germane to this Assembly.

First, there are the Standing Orders, as amended from time to time by Sessional Orders.

Second, there are the usages and precedents of our House. These usages and precedents have evolved since Ontario's 1st Parliament met in 1867, and some even go back to the Legislature of the province of Upper Canada, which was created in 1791 and first met in 1792.

There is also a third source of practice and procedure -- the traditions of parliamentary institutions in other jurisdictions. These include amongst others the Canadian House of Commons, all of the provincial and territorial legislatures in Canada, the House of Commons at Westminster, and the Australian House of Representatives.

Let me now return to the point of order currently before me.

I begin by reminding members about some of the procedural occurrences that have marked meetings of the House between April 29 (the day on which the Budget was presented) and May 16.

First, excluding adjournment motions pursuant to Standing Order 9, there have been 8 motions for adjournment of the House and 8 motions for the adjournment of the debate on whatever item of business has been before the House at the time of these motions. These motions have often been alternated, the one with the other, and there have been divisions on most of them.

Second, there have been 9 motions to proceed from one part of Routine Proceedings to another or to Orders of the Day. Most of these motions have required recorded divisions.

Third, there have been 19 points of order on the absence of timely responses to written questions under Standing Order 95(d).

And finally, there have been many events related to the introduction of bills. Twenty one private members' public bills have been introduced for first reading, and many of them have been similar in nature. Recorded divisions have been required on 14 of these bills, and the division results often indicated that no one opposed the motion for introduction and first reading. Also, the reading of the long title of Bill 95 by the mover of the motion for introduction and first reading, by the Acting Speaker, and then by the Clerk Assistant and Clerk of Journals filled 12 pages of the Votes and Proceedings for May 6, 1991.

As a result of these occurrences, it has taken considerable time to complete Routine Proceedings in order to get to Orders of the Day. The House got to Orders of the Day before 4.00 p.m. on every meeting day in April except on April 29, when it got to this stage at 4.02 p.m., which is not unusual for a Budget day. In May, the House passed to Orders of the Day sometime between 4.00 p.m. and 6.00 p.m. on 6 meeting days; Routine Proceedings were not completed at the usual 6.00 p.m. adjournment hour for the other 4 meeting days. Not surprisingly, the disposition of business in Orders of the Day, apart from Thursday mornings, has decreased significantly.

Members will know that these occurrences and developments have affected not only afternoon meetings of the House, but also the ability of the standing and select committees to meet after Routine Proceedings.

Before I proceed any further, I want to be clear on one point. I do not recite these occurrences at this point in my ruling because I somehow now find them, taken individually, to be procedurally irregular or because I somehow find fault, on a retrospective basis, with the members who initiated them. On the contrary, most of these occurrences, taken individually, were found to be in order at the time they arose.

The reason I recite them is that the Government House Leader contends that the combined effect of these procedurally valid individual occurrences has been to prevent the House from dealing with most of the business before it in a meaningful way, and that it is the responsibility of the Speaker to contain such occurrences. That is one of the contentions I have been asked to respond to, and that is why I have listed these occurrences at this point in my ruling.

I shall now consider each of the requests outlined in the statement of the Government House Leader.

The first request is that I make a ruling that would prevent the unsuccessful mover of a dilatory motion to adjourn the debate or the House from regaining the floor when proceedings resume. I have reflected carefully as to whether or not I can do this, and if so, whether I should do so at this point in time.

Let me begin my response to this first request by saying that our Standing Orders do not specifically empower me to recognize another member when proceedings resume after an adjournment motion under Standing Order 44 has been lost.

As regards our practice in such circumstances, my research has found conflicting precedents. On May 11, 1979 Speaker Stokes made these remarks (at page 1859 of Hansard) about who was entitled to speak when proceedings resumed after the adjournment of a debate:

There's a general agreement by the whips, who order the speakers, that speakers follow in rotation. On numerous occasions in the past we've had members get up and adjourn the debate on behalf of a particular party. It's just whoever happens to catch the Speaker's eye. I'm assured by the Clerk that from time immemorial you follow the normal rotation as long as you have speakers to fill the slots.... [W]e're not establishing a precedent here....

However, members will know that, since that time, the member who moved an adjournment motion has regained the floor when proceedings resumed, and this remains our current practice.

In addition, members may move successive motions to adjourn the House as long as there has been an intermediate proceeding pursuant to Standing Order 44(b), and they may alternate motions to adjourn the House with motions to adjourn the debate. For an example of this in the 34th Parliament, I refer members to pages 346 and 347 of our Journals for April 26, 1990.

The rules and the practice in the House of Commons at Ottawa and at Westminster are otherwise. In both of those Houses the movers of such motions lose the floor after the motion is lost. For example, the following remarks appear at pages 333 and 334 of the 21st edition of Erskine May's Parliamentary Practice:

When a motion for the adjournment of the House or the debate has been negatived, it may not be proposed again without some intermediate proceeding. Furthermore, the Speaker has power under Standing Order No 34, if he believes that any dilatory motion is an abuse of the rules of the House, to decline to propose the question on it to the House or to put the question thereon forthwith.

A Member who has already spoken to the main question is not permitted to move either form of dilatory motion; nor, having moved a dilatory motion, may he later speak to the main question if his motion is negatived. Similarly, a Member who has moved a dilatory motion is not entitled to move another in the course of debate on the same question.

I am not unduly concerned about the divergence in practice between our legislature and the practice in other institutions. There are many instances where our usages differ from theirs.

The reason for these and other divergences is quite simple. Our Assembly, which this year celebrates the bicentennial of the founding of its colonial predecessor, has a separate and distinct parliamentary culture, a culture that emerged and evolved when centuries-old British parliamentary institutions and traditions were married or adapted to a space we now know as Ontario. That culture continues to evolve.

And so I say to members, when the Speaker has to look to this Assembly's usages and precedents for guidance in resolving a contentious point in circumstances where the Standing Orders are silent, and when the usages and precedents of other parliamentary jurisdictions differ in some measure from Ontario's on that point, then the Speaker tends to follow the usages and precedents of this House, if they exist. Were the Speaker to do otherwise, there would be considerable confusion.

But the Government House Leader says that what is now before the House is extraordinary, that there is a parliamentary impasse. She contends that, despite its best efforts to do so, the government has seldom been able to proceed with any part of its agenda in a meaningful way since the presentation of the Budget because, among other things, there have been a large number of adjournment motions, many of them requiring a recorded division. I am therefore asked to somehow not permit the mover of an adjournment motion to regain the floor when proceedings resume after the motion is lost.

I will defer responding to this request at this point in my ruling because it begs the question as to whether I am able to act on it, a subject that is key to the second request of the Government House Leader.

Let me now turn to the second request.

The Government House Leader says that the Speaker has an inherent discretionary authority to refuse to put the question on a dilatory motion if it constitutes an abuse of the procedures of the House. She asks that I exercise this discretion if I do in fact find that it exists.

This request has given me much cause for concern and deliberation. Does the Speaker have such a discretion? If so, what are its parameters? Would a decision in this regard not also require the Speaker to engage in the difficult task of ascertaining the real intentions of a member who moves a dilatory motion? Would the exercise of discretion have a retrospective or prospective operation? If the latter, am I being asked to make such a ruling apply to all future situations where a dilatory motion is used, or just to those situations where I would be of the view that it would unduly obstruct the business of the House, or just to those dilatory motions in the current series of alleged obstructions?

Let me begin answering some of these questions by saying that the Standing Orders give the Speaker a discretion in some aspects of our practice and procedure. For example, to determine whether closure and other motions are in order, to adjourn the House for grave disorder, and to recognize members to speak.

But the Standing Orders do not explicitly confer a general or inherent discretion on the Speaker to deal with abuse of the rules or obstruction of House business. Nor is there a House usage or precedent that is directly on point. And so it is necessary to examine the practice in other parliamentary jurisdictions.

In British Columbia, Standing Orders 34 and 44 respectively read as follows:

A motion to adjourn (except when made for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance) shall be always in order; but no second motion to the same effect shall be made until after some intermediate proceedings shall have taken place.

If Mr. Speaker, or the Chairman of a Committee of the Whole House, shall be of opinion that a motion for the adjournment of a debate, or of the House, during any debate, or that the Chairman do report progress, or do leave the chair, is an abuse of the Rules and privileges of the House, he may forthwith put the question thereupon from the chair, or he may decline to propose the question to the House.

The latter Standing Order shares some similarities with Standing Order 86 of the rules of the Australian House of Representatives. It lists 14 questions and motions that are not open to debate, and then provides as follows:

Should any of these questions be negatived, no similar proposal shall be received if the Speaker or the Chairman is of opinion that it is an abuse of the orders or forms of the House, or is moved for the purpose of obstructing business.

Standing Order 34 of the rules of the House of Commons at Westminster provides as follows:

(1) If Mr Speaker, or the chairman, shall be of opinion that a dilatory motion is an abuse of the rules of the House, he may forthwith put the question thereupon from the chair, or he may decline to propose the question thereupon to the House or the committee.

(2) For the purposes of this order the expression 'dilatory motion' shall include a motion for the adjournment of a debate, or of the House, during any debate, or of further consideration of a bill or of the Lords amendments to a bill, or that the chairman do report progress or do leave the chair.

The House of Commons at Ottawa is in the same position as our Assembly -- it has no Standing Order like the ones in the 3 jurisdictions I have just mentioned. However, this has not prevented its presiding officers from finding that they had some latitude with respect to exceptional procedural occurrences, or that they might, in the proper circumstances, exercise such latitude.

For example, on March 18, 1982, after a 14-day bell-ringing episode that had effectively prevented the House from proceeding with the business before it, Speaker Sauve made these remarks (at pages 15,556 and 15,557 of Hansard):

The Speaker is the guardian of the rules of the House. He does not invent them. It is up to the House to decide what changes are necessary. I merely point out that there is a problem. In the meantime, the Chair will continue to be vulnerable until the House provides it with guidelines which would lead to settled practices regarding those very difficult and highly controversial questions, where the rules and practices appear to be less than satisfactory. ...

I may point out that obstructive tactics are allowed by the rules. However, their use must be regulated so as to safeguard the government's right to have the House consider its order of business and the equally important right of the opposition to criticize, oppose and even obstruct a government measure.

It is my hope that such a situation will never again occur in this House. However, should it occur again, the Chair, unless it is provided with firm guidelines, would need to consider its course of action with very great care under the new circumstances. I trust that in the overriding interests of this honourable institution, the House will take steps to make known its will as to how the Chair should act before any such situation occurs again.

The bell-ringing episode and Speaker Sauvé's remarks had an effect on how the House of Commons' presiding officers subsequently dealt with analogous situations. The changed climate informed the views of the Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons when he cautioned members about the use of dilatory tactics in the House on October 27, 1983. He made the following remarks (at page 28,375 of Hansard):

The Chair is not prepared to entertain a series of dilatory motions whose object -- and I call this to the attention of Hon. Members -- is to impede the orderly flow of House of Commons business. This is something which Hon. Members might well wish to remember. They may well wish to remember my words of today, because circumstances could well change in this place and Hon. Members are creating precedents that they themselves might have to live with. That is something that they will have to be concerned about and answer to themselves.

At this point the Chair recognizes the points of order that have been raised. It has ruled on the points of order that have been raised. It is always the right of Hon. Members to raise points of order, but there is a point at which the Chair has to decide that the proceedings are dilatory, designed to impede the conduct of business of the House, and under such circumstances the Chair has to exercise some initiative.

And on April 14, 1987, Speaker Fraser ruled that a government motion to proceed from the one part of Routine Proceedings to another was in order in circumstances where there had been a protracted series of procedural occurrences related to a government bill. He found that these occurrences had become a substitute for debate and that they were disrupting Routine Proceedings. I want to quote extensively from this important ruling for the benefit of members. This is what Speaker Fraser said (at pages 5120 and 5121 of Hansard):

In the kind of situation which faces us, I have no doubt that negotiation provides the only route to a satisfactory solution. However, when negotiations fail there comes a time when the Chair is obliged to consider what its own responsibilities are. One of the functions of the Speaker is to ensure that the House is able to transact its business. This does not mean that the Chair plays any part in assisting the Government in the management of its business agenda. I want to repeat that; this does not mean that the Chair plays any part in assisting the Government in the management of its business agenda.

Considerable debate has already taken place on this Bill. It cannot be argued the opportunities for airing objections to it have been unreasonably restricted. There has been considerable disruption of Routine Proceedings which, as I have said, has given me grave concern.

The House is ... facing an impasse which it has been unable to resolve for itself. There comes a time when the chair has to face its responsibilities. When circumstances change and the Rules of Procedure provide no solution, the Chair must fall back on its discretion in the interest of the House and all its members. This may require the Chair to modify or vary an earlier decision.

An eminent parliamentary authority, Josef Redlich, has written that it is the duty of the Speaker to serve the majority and the minority:

-- by maintaining the rules and the usage of centuries, and by taking care that both majority and minority are not impeded in the use of the forces and the weapons which the order of business provides for strong and weak. Protection of a majority against obstruction and protection of minority against oppression are both alike functions of the Chair.

I repeat my conviction that the entire question of the use of dilatory motions during Routine Proceedings needs to be examined and that no procedures should be sanctioned which permit the House to be brought to a total standstill for an indefinite period. Division bells are no substitute for debate.

The decision of the House to change the manner of electing its Speaker is indicative of the fact that the House of Commons has matured. Has it matured enough to confer upon its Presiding Officer the discretionary powers necessary to control abuse and resolve deadlocks that the British House of Commons gave its own Speaker over a century ago? I believe it has.

That is what Speaker Fraser said. On June 29, 1987, he made some additional remarks about the circumstances in which he had exercised his latitude to act. He said the following about his April ruling (at page 7713 of Hansard):

If Hon. Members have taken from my ruling of April 14 that the Chair would, in the future, exercise discretion on any or all of the rules of the House, they have misunderstood the letter and the spirit of the ruling. The discretion I exercised on that day was in the context of an absolute lack of any guidance in the Standing Orders -- I repeat, in the context of an absolute lack of any guidance from the Standing Orders -- or in the precedents, or practices, or conventions of this House. Nor was there any direction from the House itself, at that moment.

I have found these authorities most helpful, and I find, without limiting the ambit of the duties and powers of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, that the Speaker does have a latitude to act in exceptional instances where the Standing Orders are being abused or where the business of the House is being obstructed.

Given that I have this latitude, I now have to determine whether the situation before me is such that I should act.

I begin my response on this issue by making a few remarks about the role of the Speaker in parliamentary jurisdictions. As with all presiding officers, the Speaker has to avoid becoming involved in partisan activities in the exercise of his or her office, and has to avoid the appearance of such involvement. The Speaker must uphold the independence and integrity of the office, protect the rights of both the majority and the minority, and uphold the privileges of the House and its members. I am cognizant, and have often reminded myself, of the importance of respecting the letter and spirit of these prescriptions, and members can rest assured I will continue to be vigilant in this regard.

In my deliberations on whether or not I should exercise the latitude to act that is reposed in me, I have been mindful of the fact that previous Speakers have not had occasion to act in the way I am asked to act. This suggests to me an obvious point, namely, that the Speaker will rarely be faced with a situation where the Standing Orders are being abused or where there is obstruction to the point that he or she must act.

In this vein, I remind members that there have been many serious procedural difficulties in the history of this legislature, and they have not been resolved by the kind of intervention that is now being sought by the Government House Leader.

For example, in the last session of the 34th Parliament, there was an unprecedented 50-hour debate, over 17 meeting days, on a time allocation motion with respect to Bill 68. The debate ended when the government moved closure.

In the course of that debate, there were many procedural occurrences. There were adjournment motions. There were points of order. There were petitions. There were motions for the introduction and first reading of bills. There were recorded divisions on these motions. And there were quorum calls. Members will recognize some of these procedural occurrences as having also marked recent meetings of the House.

Throughout that period, members from the government side contended, as members from the government side do now, that many of the procedural occurrences were out of order. But the Speaker and the other presiding officers ruled that most of them did not offend our rules, as has been the case with the current series of procedural occurrences.

Should I, then, exercise my latitude to act? Does anything prevent me from so doing? In answering this question, it is clear from the rulings of the House of Commons' presiding officers that I have already referred to that I have to consider all the circumstances. And so that members may know how they might guide themselves, I will review how 2 of these circumstances apply to what has transpired in this House in recent weeks.

First, it is clear from the rulings that I have referred to that before the Speaker acts, he or she must be satisfied that the members themselves have attempted to resolve the difficulties that beset the House. There must have been sustained and good faith, albeit unsuccessful, efforts by members to resolve their differences by the traditional, time-worn method of negotiations.

It is also clear from those rulings that before exercising a latitude to act, the Speaker must be satisfied that the situation in the House approaches a deadlock or standstill.

In short, I will not act on the Government House Leader's second request in the absence of evidence that there is no room left for negotiations, and that the situation in the House approaches a deadlock or standstill. These 2 circumstances were not present when the point of order was raised 2 weeks ago, and they are not present today.

I hope that my remarks on the second request encourage members to resolve their differences and to see their way clear to proceed with the business of the House so that it is not necessary for me to act.

I trust that it is obvious from what I have said about the Government House Leader's second request that I cannot act with respect to her first request. However, let me also say that the moving of adjournment motions under Standing Order 44 -- as with dilatory tactics generally -- can, in a proper case, qualify for the exercise of the Speaker's latitude.

I turn now to the alternative request of the Government House Leader. She suggests that, in effect, the Speaker has an overarching discretion to act as he or she thinks fit. This goes far beyond the second request. This kind of open-ended request is a common feature of statements of claim and other kinds of legal pleadings in civil law, but it is an inappropriate request in so far as the law and custom of parliament is concerned. It is a request that I somehow resolve the alleged impasse so as to assist the government to push its agenda through the House.

This I will not do, as it is incompatible with not only the nature of the office of the Speaker, but also the idea of parliamentary democracy, something that members from all sides of the House alluded to many times in their submissions on the point of order 2 weeks ago.

I say to members that it is for the government of the day to decide the agenda, and for the House to consider the business put before it by that government. Speaker Stokes made some instructive remarks on this very point in this House on May 29, 1979. He said the following (at page 2292 of Hansard):

[I]t is not the responsibility of the chair to order the business of this House or the committees of the House, which are creatures of the House. The ordering of business is the responsibility of the government House leader in consultation with the other two House leaders.... [Y]ou wouldn't want the chair to be forcing its position on the ordering of the business of this House or its committees. It must be resolved by the proper authorities. There is nothing I can do about it.

In declining to act on the third request, I say that the primary responsibility for resolving differences and difficulties among the members lies with the members themselves. In the past, this has usually been done by negotiations and by changes to the Standing Orders.

In closing my remarks on this point of order, I want to say to members that while I have declined to act on any of the requests of the Government House Leader, I am very much aware of the exchanges and strains among members and the Parties in the past few weeks. I want to be helpful, to render what assistance I am able to give. To this end, I say that my office is available to facilitate resolutions to problems and conflicts to the extent that it would be consistent with the essential nature of the office.

I thank the members for their attention in the course of this extended ruling. It offers something for all members. I trust that it offers some guidance as well.

The Speaker further ruled as follows:-

Also on Thursday last (May 23), the Honourable Member for Algoma, the Minister of Natural Resources, (Mr. Wildman) rose on a point of order complaining of remarks made the day before, in this House, by the Honourable Member for Simcoe East (Mr. McLean).

I have had a chance to consult Hansard and have reviewed the offending words. I must say that had I been able to hear those words when they were said to the House or had they been brought to my attention at that moment, I might have asked the honourable member to withdraw his words.

In the circumstances I must counsel all honourable members that Members Statements should not be used to proffer personal attacks upon other members in this House nor should they, in any way, be couched in language that is disorderly.

Pursuant to Standing Order 35(b), the following Petitions were presented:-

Petition relating to Anti-Abortion (Sessional Paper No. P-5) (Tabled May 27, 1991) Mr K. Sutherland.

Petition relating to Sunday Shopping (Sessional Paper No. P-24) (Tabled May 27, 1991) Mr J. Wiseman.

Petition relating to Members' replies to correspondence (Sessional Paper No. P-25) (Tabled May 27, 1991) Mr A. McLean.

During the presentation of "Petitions", Mr Cousens moved that the House do now proceed to "Reports by Committees", which motion was carried on the following division:-

Mr Bradley moved,

That in the opinion of this House, the budgetary policy of the Bob Rae government fulfils the worst fears people have of the inability of the New Democratic Party to restrain and control government spending; results in the highest deficit in the province's history, at least $9.73 billion; increases taxes by at least $1 billion; and condemns the province to a generation of crushing debt and increased taxation, therefore, this House calls upon the Premier and the Treasurer: to introduce a new budget after appropriate consultation with the people of the province that provides a strategy for debt reduction, manages government spending, reduces the taxation burden for individuals and business, and creates a climate for economic recovery and growth.
